About the Family

We got married in 2014 and have four beautiful children. We have served as missionaries in Haiti, Cuba, Colombia and the Amazon jungle and, by the grace of God, we planted a church in Mexico in 2021. In 2022–2023, I served as a pastoral intern in Indiana, while studying for a master's degree in divinity. In 2024, God called us to plant a church in El Paso, Texas.

We are a homeschool family. My wife is a former public school teacher with a master's degree in bilingual education, and she recently opened a Christian online academy to serve families in the U.S., Mexico and Latin America. We also have a local Christian homeschool ministry, and our vision is to serve our community through family workshops, academic resources, coaching, and biblical counseling, to share the love of Christ, preach the gospel, and make disciples of Christ.

About My Church Plant

With an increasing number of migrants and refugees coming to El Paso from South America, there is a great need for bilingual, doctrinally sound churches to be planted to serve a multicultural community. It is a blessing to serve Christ, His Church and our multicultural community as a bi-vocational pastor. We actively look for opportunities to share the love of Christ by sharing the gospel, offering prayer and helping those in need in our day-to-day life.

Also, with an increasing need and demand for Christian homeschool programs in our community, God has opened doors for our church and homeschool ministry to equip families so that they can implement a Christian-based integral education with their young children and teenagers.

Provide.

PRAY.

Pray God will continue giving us boldness and compassion to share the gospel in our multicultural border community.

Pray God will continue to bring people to repentance and saving faith in Christ and that they would want to become active members of our church.

Pray God will continue to provide for our family's financial needs as I am a bi-vocational pastor.

Pray God will use my wife's homeschooling outreach ministry to serve other families academically, while taking opportunities to share the gospel with them.

Pray God will provide us with our own building for our church or for an existing church to lend or rent space to us.
