PROVIDE

Many missionaries build a team to join their ministry in prayer, participation, and provision. These friends, family and churches support missionaries beyond the tithes and offerings given within the church plant. Visit sendnetwork.com/PlanterFunding for NAMB's policy on providing for church plants.

About the Family

I am from Ethiopia and grew up in a Christian family. I have five sisters and two brothers, and all of them serve in ministry with their spouses. My father was a missionary for about 80 years. He passed away three years ago at the age of 120, and my mother passed away the year before him.

I now live in Portland and serve the Lord with my wife, Almaz Botto, and our four children: Mercy (19), Misha (13), Bemnet (11), and Gideon (9). We are all joyful and committed to serving God in every area of our lives. Our family loves sharing the gospel, helping others grow in faith, and being part of God's work in the community. Serving together brings us great joy and purpose each day.

About My Church Plant

I served God in Ethiopia as a full-time evangelist and helped plant about eight churches. I preached, led worship, and played guitar and keyboard. I also trained leaders, taught the Bible, and gave counseling to individuals and families. I came to the United States for my studies and attended Point University in Georgia. I earned my Master of Divinity in New Orleans and completed my Doctor of Ministry at George Fox University in Oregon.

I first lived in Colorado for two years, where I planted a church. Then I moved to Georgia and lived there for more than 13 years, planting two churches. I also helped plant churches in New Orleans and Charlotte. I believe God has called me to plant churches and serve His people. I am thankful for my wife, who has a heart for mission and always supports and encourages me.
