PRAY.

Pray for boldness to share the gospel and open hearts among the people to whom I minister.
 Pray for people to come to saving faith in Jesus.
 Pray for more to become chaplains.

PARTICIPATE

Commit to long-term prayer support. Explore the opportunities to extend the reach of your church by becoming a chaplain. Be involved in supporting chaplains and their families. Send notes of encouragement. Talk with a chaplain about his or her ministry context. Send resources that support a chaplain's ministry context. Pray for chaplains and their families.

PROVIDE

Become personally invested in the ministry of chaplains. Learn about their ministry context, so you can provide relevant help and resources.

About the Family

My wife, Natalie, and I married in 2014 and are stationed at Scott Air Force Base, Illinois. We are committed to raising our three sons—Josiah (4), Jude (2), and Jonas (9 months)—in the faith, and by God's grace, we hope to continue growing our family.

Natalie serves as an occupational therapist, bringing loving, caring, and nurturing qualities to all she does. She is also a gifted writer and communicator whose intentionality and thoughtfulness are evident in everything she pursues.

I earned a Bachelor of Science in Kinesiology from Indiana University (2009) and a Master of Theology in Historical Theology from Dallas Theological Seminary (2019). I enjoy reading historical, biographical, and theological books, as well as outdoor activities, sports, coffee, traveling, drawing, and genealogy.

About My Ministry

As an active duty Air Force Chaplain, I am called to bring the hope of the gospel to those who serve our nation. I minister to Airmen, Guardians, and military families in some of life's most challenging moments—deployments, loss, crisis, and transition.

Though I serve people of all backgrounds, I am unapologetically a gospel witness. I share the love of Christ through one-on-one pastoral care, counseling, worship, and evangelism. The military is a unique mission field, and I count it a privilege to plant seeds of faith where they are most needed. I am passionate about making disciples, strengthening marriages and families, and connecting people to the local church.
