Butoyi Kashindi

AGAPE GRACE CHURCH, LANSING, MICHIGAN

About the Family

My name is Butoyi Kashindi. My wife is Mwangaza Florence. We have been married for 32 years, and God has blessed us with eight children—six girls and two boys. We thank God because all our children continue to serve the Lord in church work.

We are also blessed with five grandchildren. Our journey began in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC), passed through Burundi, and finally ended in the United States. I am currently 13 years into pastoral ministry, continuing to serve God faithfully.

About My Ministry

My wife and I have served God in various churches in Burundi and here in the United States. We also led various fellowship groups and ministries in the church until God gave us permission to start and plant a church called Agape Grace. Agape Grace is a family of believers from different nations who speak multiple languages: Swahili, Kirundi, English, and French.

Agape's vision is to teach people to live lives of holiness, fellowship, love, and God's grace. Our purpose is to make people true disciples of Jesus Christ by building them up in the Word of God and encouraging them to live lives of obedience to Christ.
