About the Family

After more than 10 years of being in ministry in Jacksonville, Fla., Kati and I knew God was preparing us for a new season.

In 2017, we entered a time of fasting and earnestly seeking God to find His new calling for our family. After a few months, we were overwhelmed by the clarity the Lord provided in calling us to uproot our lives in Florida and move to Encinitas, Calif., to plant a church and spread love and a sense of belonging.

From the moment we received that call until summer of 2019, when we made the cross-country move, we spent time planning and preparing with the leadership of the Church of Eleven22 in Jacksonville. We are grateful for the support of family and friends for this new movement that is called Redline Church.

About My Church Plant

The name Redline came to Kati in a time of prayer. She was praying through what God wanted this movement to be called, knowing it would be wholly focused on Jesus. The word “redline” represents a focus on the scarlet thread of Jesus throughout the Scriptures.

Our hope is that Redline Church will be a place where people can belong before they believe and that we as a movement would re-frame who Jesus is to people who feel far from Him and for those that don’t yet have a relationship with Him, that we would display the hope and love only Jesus can provide. We believe that in addition to other faithful churches, Redline Church will help spread hope and show love to the people of Encinitas.

We now live in Encinitas and are involved in this incredible community, growing roots and loving on the people around them.
