MOUNT HOPE CHURCH

About the Family

Jamie and I both grew up in the same small Missouri town. In May of 2016, we graduated from the University of Central Missouri, got married and moved to Kansas City so I could begin studying at Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary (MBTS). In spring of 2019, I completed my Master of Divinity degree at MBTS.

In considering through conversations and prayer what the Lord had for us post-graduation, our ties to the New England region seemed to pull us toward the Northeast. We were presented with the opportunity to go to a small town, in Bristol, R.I., to partner with a new NAMB church plant, Mount Hope Church (MHC). Joel Sedam had served as the sole staff pastor for nearly three years since planting and had been praying for help to come. We moved at the end of May and moved to partner in ministry with MHC.

About My Church Plant

Mount Hope Church was planted in February of 2016 in Bristol, R.I., as a response to the considerable lack of gospel-centered churches in smaller, rural areas in New England. Mount Hope exists as a community that follows Jesus together as they seek to declare and display His good news.

I currently serve as the assistant pastor. I will help with preaching and teaching, member care, creating church structures to care for members and sustain growth like community groups, and help aid in the college and nursing ministries of our church.

PRAY.

Pray with and for us! Pray that Jamie and I will have joyful dependence on Christ. Pray that we will have gospel conversations with neighbors and Bristol residents. Pray for the faithfulness and unity of the members of Mount Hope Church, for the Spirit to work in the people in Bristol and for individuals and churches to give generously to sustain our ministry here in Bristol.

PARTICIPATE

We have determined that in order for our family to set roots down and have a long-term approach, we must be sustained prayerfully and financially. We are seeking churches and individuals to partner with and support us until Mount Hope is able to grow and fully fund our ministry. We are asking for churches and individuals to consider giving monthly or to give a yearly donation.

PROVIDE

Learn the ministry strategy and context, so you can provide relevant resources. Support a missionary financially.
