

Daniel Lacey

DWELL CHURCH

About the Family

My name is Daniel Lacey, and I am a senior at Dallas Baptist University studying music business for worship leadership. My family lives in Little Rock, Ark., where my dad is a worship pastor. I am the middle child between two brothers. The older just graduated from Liberty University, and the younger is a sophomore in high school. I am engaged to my fiancé Allison, who is going to school hoping to be an elementary teacher.

I currently serve as the associate worship leader for Dwell Church, a church plant in Wylie, Texas, where I work with a great team to spread the gospel. My time with Dwell has taught me a lot, and I have seen growth during my time with the church.

About My Church Plant

I have been leading worship since my sophomore year of high school. While in college, I have completed three internships and now serve as the associate worship leader at Dwell Church in Wylie, Texas. Through my internships and studies at school, I have learned a lot about shepherding a team and congregation. I hope to continue learning as much as possible about the philosophy and practical aspects of ministry for as long as I live.

I am very thankful to have the opportunity to serve at Dwell Church, where I am actively learning practical aspects of planning worship sets and working with a team.
