CONNECTIONS CHURCH

About the Family

Nancy and I have three adult children, whom we raised in Hawaii, and two grandchildren.

I pastored three mainland churches before planting and pastoring a church in Kona for seven years. I then worked in Hawaii as a church planting catalyst for Send Network for five years, assisting 12 new church starts.

Still working with Send Network, I moved to Los Angeles to help 52 more new church plants get started there. Nancy and I then sensed God leading us back to Hawaii to plant this new church in Kapolei.

I think God's ways are amazing, especially since I worked as an accountant in Arizona for seven years before God called me into full-time ministry. That prompted me to attend Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas, where I received a Master of Divinity degree.

About My Church Plant

We believe this new church will exist to see individuals and families encounter the real God through real relationships. We dream of many who will give their lives to Jesus for the first time, along with many who will come back to Him in a renewed relationship.

We envision God strengthening relationships and marriages with healthy families being a solid foundation in the community. We dream of many being raised up as leaders and sent out to start new churches and do mission work in Hawaii and around the world.

Starting a new church during the coronavirus pandemic has been difficult. We are currently meeting at a unique location that God provided—a water park. We are meeting people through many diverse avenues and as Hawaii's strict COVID-19 restrictions allow. Our grand opening is scheduled for September 2021, Lord willing.
