About the Family

Averi, my wife, and I were married on June 13, 2026. We both have a deep longing to see the world reached for Christ, fully believing that reaching college students is one of the most effective ways to do so.

About My Ministry

Challenge has three primary goals: first, to reach students on campus with the gospel; second, to mobilize those students, helping them grow in their faith; and third, to send them out into the world so that they may go on to do the same with others. It is through this process that God has worked mightily at San Diego State University (SDSU) and the places fortunate to receive the men and women who come out of Challenge.
