KING'S TABLE CHURCH

About the Family

I grew up as a military kid, moving across the United States many times and learning to adapt to and grow to love the different cultures and peoples the Lord allowed me to encounter. I settled in Greenville, S.C., when I started college at North Greenville University. While there, I began serving at The Church at Greer Station (TCGS) in various capacities.

Through my involvement in the local church, the Lord began cultivating in me a desire to spend my life heralding the gospel in places of great need. A few of my favorite things include the outdoors, discovering new music, experiencing different cultures and making Jesus known!

About My Church Plant

Serving at TCGS exposed me to international church planting. The Lord began calling me to be part of a church planting team from our church to a region that needs more gospel-outposts—the Halifax Regional Municipality (HRM) in Nova Scotia.

On my first trip to Halifax, we visited St. Mary's University where, little did I know then, I would begin an International Masters of Teaching English degree upon moving there. Through this program, the Lord has provided countless gospel conversations, and I hope to continue engaging university students from unreached places with Christ's kingdom.

Our team's goal is to establish a new church in the HRM in order to see a gathered community of Jesus' people who proclaim the gospel in word and deed. I'm excited to serve with King's Table Church as an evangelistic presence in the city.
