CHURCH ON MILL

About the Family

I was born in California, but raised in New Jersey. Growing up in the church, I had great examples in the faith to look up to. I graduated from Arizona State University (ASU) with a photography degree and felt God directing me to be a missionary to ASU.

Church on Mill and my college ministry has helped me grow through an emphasis on God's Word and sharing the gospel.

About My Ministry

There are more than 50,000 students on ASU's main campus from all over the country and even the whole world. These students are desperately searching for truth, fulfillment and purpose in life, but they will not be able to find it anywhere else except in Jesus Christ. We have an enemy who is fighting to destroy their souls, and I want to devote my time bringing our saving gospel to them.

I am serving as a collegiate missionary with Christian Challenge at ASU. I serve on a team of missionaries whose aim is to develop students who love God, live His Word and serve His church.
