DIVINE GRACE CHURCH

About the Family

I was born in a Christian home but didn't have a personal encounter with the Lord until I was 19 years old. God called me into the gospel ministry at age 22, and I responded to that call when I was 24 years old.

My wife's father was an Islamic cleric, so she was a Muslim by birth. Anthonia gave her life to Christ at the age of 24 while she was in college. Her roommates showed her the love of Christ, and so she made a commitment to follow Jesus Christ.

Anthonia and I have been married for 14 years. We are blessed with four daughters and a son.

I attended Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, then the Lord called us to plant a multicultural/multiethnic church in the Atlanta area. I am also an SBC-endorsed chaplain.

About My Ministry

The call to plant a multiethnic, multicultural church was received as a vision from the Lord, and we are obediently answering the call. The mission of Divine Grace Church and Ministries is to expand the kingdom of God through the sharing of the gospel message among the people and the nations of the world (Matthew 28:19-20).

We envision being a faith community where people will be drawn to God through Jesus Christ and nurture one another with biblical principles. We are committed to reaching all peoples and nations with the gospel of Christ and bring them together to exalt the King of glory (Revelation 5:9).

PRAY.

Pray for boldness to share the gospel and open hearts among the people to whom I minister.

Commit to long-term prayer support. Explore the opportunities to extend the reach of your church by becoming a chaplain. Be involved in supporting chaplains and their families. Send notes of encouragement. Talk with a chaplain about his or her ministry context. Send resources that support a chaplain's ministry context. Pray for chaplains and their families.

PROVIDE

Many missionaries build a team to join their ministry in prayer, participation, and provision. These friends, family and churches support missionaries beyond the tithes and offerings given within the church plant. Visit sendnetwork.com/PlanterFunding for NAMB's policy on providing for church plants.
