CATALYST CHURCH

About the Family

God changed my life while working as a police officer with the New York City police department. In 2011, I felt called to move to San Diego and help an existing church plant.

Since then, I have served in leadership positions at two church plants, preached in many churches in the Southern California area and ministered to the homeless and addicted through a local Christian ministry. I continue to point people in San Diego to salvation in Christ.

I have completed biblical and ministry degrees from Liberty University and Southern California Seminary. I am happily married to my wife, Jeannette, and we are the proud parents of Tyler and Kevin.

About My Church Plant

San Diego is a place of sun, beaches, beautiful weather and a growing population. It is also a place of skyrocketing housing costs, homelessness, substance abuse and spiritual emptiness. More than 1 million people live in the city alone. I am working to bring the gospel to a city desperately in need of the hope of Jesus Christ.
