PRAY.

Things to pray for:

—Hearts that are open to the gospel and the new ministry.

—That relationships would be formed in Gresham, Sandy and in Pathway Church.

—That I would not put my identity in this ministry but in Jesus.

—That I would take Sabbath rest regularly.

—Lastly pray for Portland, Gresham, and Sandy!

PARTICIPATE

Come visit the city and see what God is doing through our church. Write and send notes of encouragement. Call or text to check in on life or the ministry!

PROVIDE

Learn the ministry strategy and context, so you can provide relevant resources. Support a missionary financially.

PATHWAY CHURCH

About the Family

Hey! I was born and raised in East Texas but moved to Portland, Ore., in 2016 to launch a collegiate ministry. I consider myself a Northwesterner now, but that's up for debate among my friends. My number one joy and love in life is Jesus. Outside of Him, I enjoy various things and activities.

My personality is similar to that of an otter. That being said, I am a social butterfly who is usually playful and loves being with others.

It was with this robust personality that I met my wife in 2016. We got married December 2020, and it has been such a blessing to see God bring a wonderful woman in my life.

When it comes to Scripture, I am serious in handling God's Word. I love reading and teaching the Bible. Lastly, another big passion of mine is discipling college students. Cultivating young leaders is critical.

About My Church Plant

I am the campus pastor for Pathway - Sandy. My goal is to provide biblical community, discipleship and paths for leadership development within the church and community. My main focus will be in Sandy, Ore., but I will be helping with discipleship and evangelism in Gresham.

Sandy is the third fastest growing town in the state of Oregon. There is great potential to meet young families and to see them come to faith in Christ. Our mission at Pathway is simple: We seek to make disciples of Jesus across the street and around the world.
