PRAY.

For God to prepare the way for relationships and conversations about Jesus

For Molly to have a love for the students to whom she will be ministering.

For Grace Harbor to be a witness of the gospel in Providence.

For the Father to send more workers into His harvest to join these missionaries

PARTICIPATE

Be a partner in Providence by giving and praying.

Commit to long-term missions support with your missionary partner.

Be involved in supporting missionaries and their families.

Pray for missionaries.

PROVIDE

Many missionaries build a team to join their ministry in prayer, participation, and provision. These friends, family and churches support missionaries beyond the tithes and offerings given within the church plant. Visit sendnetwork.com/PlanterFunding for NAMB's policy on providing for church plants.

About the Family

Originally from North Carolina, Molly grew up in a Christian home and learned about missions around the world at her local family church, First Baptist Church in Albemarle. She later attended Covenant College near Chattanooga, Tenn. She learned about missions work in Providence, R.I., in her local church there, Concord Baptist Church. Through those connections she first visited Providence on a short-term missions trip and saw the need for Jesus to be proclaimed in the city. The Lord was already working through Grace Harbor Church, and Molly desired to join this work. She taught high school math for two years but is working full time in college ministry in Providence.

About My Ministry

Molly is working with Christian Student Fellowship (CSF) at Johnson and Wales University. Being part of CSF includes attending weekly meetings—like Tuesday Night Truth—planning and leading Bible studies, attending retreats and supporting the ministry leaders and student leaders. During the week she meets with college ladies one-on-one, engaging them in conversations, book studies or Bible studies along with enjoying their company and spending informal time simply working or playing alongside them. In addition to ministry events, encouraging students to be active members of a local church is a priority.
