About the Family

I am the oldest of three. I have a younger sister. We adopted my brother when I was a junior in high school. My mom teaches second grade, and my dad coaches girls basketball and teaches English and history.

We moved a lot. Between pre-K and senior year, I went to seven different schools. I graduated from Clinton High School and attended Oklahoma Baptist University (OBU) for two years. I transferred to Southwestern Oklahoma State University (SWOSU), where I graduated with a bachelor's degree in health science. Instead of going to radiology school as originally planned, I interned for the Baptist Collegiate Ministry (BCM) and then became associate director, serving two years.

April 15, 2023, I married Colin Miller, who is the youth minister at Union Hill in Purcell. A lot of change is ahead, but it is evident where the Lord is leading!

About My Ministry

I started at the University of Oklahoma BCM in May and minister to freshman college students. Freshmen have my heart because the first year as a college student can be very overwhelming. The BCM was so welcoming and helpful when I transferred to SWOSU that I want students to find their home-away-from-home like I did.

It is not just college students I encourage, but youth students as well. It is cool how the Lord put Colin and me together. I can encourage students throughout their middle-school and high-school years but guide them as college approaches.
