FORDHAM COMMUNITY CHURCH

About the Family

I was born in the Dominican Republic but grew up in New York City (NYC). I came to know the Lord Jesus Christ as my Savior as I read the gospel of Matthew while in high school. God transformed my life. God has given me since then a passion to preach the gospel and to help as many as possible see the beauty of the Lord Jesus.

I am married to my best friend and dear wife, Dayami Perez. Dayami was born and raised in NYC. We have a son, Navi Perez, who has filled our home with joy. We love spending time together, are always listening to music, or one of us is reading a book, and eating meals together. God called us back to the Bronx to start Fordham Community Church. Our desire is to spend our lives making disciples in the Bronx.

About My Church Plant

We are planting a new church in the Bronx. The Bronx is a beautiful tapestry of diverse cultures. As you walk through it's streets, your right ear is bombarded with the resounding drum of a hip hop beat and your left ear with the swing of salsa while your right foot begins to dance bachata and your left moves to the rhythm of merengue.

It's also a place that is comfortable with spiritual things, but not with Jesus or His church. We want to see a church planted that is a kingdom family that displays the love of Jesus—church that devotes itself to knowing God and His Word, lives like a true spiritual family and loves our neighbors so we would bless our neighborhood with our actions and words. We want to see God glorify His name here in the Bronx.
