About the Family

I felt called to be a missionary at age 18. God has since grown my heart for all nations, especially the world's unreached peoples. During the past six years, I have served in Little Rock, Arkansas, and on various short-term, overseas mission trips. Though I still hope to serve overseas long-term someday, God has made it very clear to me that He wants me to serve in Philadelphia for the next two years.

I am so thankful for the time, training, ministry, experience and love I have received here in Little Rock. God has been good, and I am continuing to walk by faith.

About My Ministry

I will be serving as an international student missionary at Drexel University and the Community College of Philadelphia as well as the international student ministry catalyst in Pennsylvania and New Jersey. I will serve on these two primary campuses among international students building bridges and doing things like:

- Creating church connections with the language churches
- Starting Discover Bible Studies
- Joining the ministry already happening at Drexel
- Sharing the truth of the gospel through evangelism
- Training and discipling students in ministry
- Possibly starting a furniture drive for incoming international students

And finally, I will continue preparation for hopefully moving overseas to serve God among an unreached people group in the 10/40 window.
