

Shannon Wolf

MISSION TRAILS CHURCH

About the Family

I became a Christian in 2011 and entered the mission field in 2015. I love getting to share the gospel with people, discipling women to grow in their faith in Jesus and sending out these trained disciples to do the same in their circle of influence.

About My Ministry

I work for a student organization at San Diego State University (SDSU) called Challenge. I first became a believer when a staff member from Challenge clearly shared the gospel with me and invited me to pray to receive Christ. I was also discipled by her and grew so much in my walk with Jesus in my years at college. I see how effective campus ministry was in my own life, and I want to impact college students in the same way now.

I lead Bible studies, disciple small groups of ladies and evangelize on campus. I am also the event coordinator for Challenge, which means I handle the logistics and details for events and retreats that happen throughout the semester.

I have seen God do some amazing things at SDSU, and I look forward to seeing how He will use me as I faithfully serve Him in this season!

Find out how you can

Pray.

Participate.

Provide.

PRAY.

Pray for boldness to share the gospel and open hearts among the SDSU students.

Pray students who are already believers will get plugged into Challenge and want to be discipled to grow in their faith.

Pray for stamina and longevity for ministry amidst attacks from the enemy.

Pray there would be good teamwork between myself and the director of Challenge.

Lift up good physical and mental health.

PARTICIPATE

You are able to participate with me anytime if you'd like to come along on an outreach day where I share the Gospel with students, attend a Gospel Appointment with me, or help lead a Bible study. SDSU is an open campus, and any one is allowed on campus to share the Gospel!

PROVIDE

Learn the ministry strategy and context, so you can provide relevant resources. Support a missionary financially.