FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

About the Family

I grew up in Colbert, Okla., with my parents, Troy and Stacie Phillips. I have four precious siblings, Jordan, Bailey, Jamie and John. My dad is a pastor in Cartwright, Okla., and my mom is a reading interventionist at Colbert Elementary. Education is prominent in my family as I taught third grade students for six years, and my brother and sister-in-law teach elementary students.

I attended Oklahoma Baptist University, graduating with a bachelor's in elementary education. I went on to attend Southeastern Oklahoma State University (SOSU), graduating with my master's in administration leadership. I am passionate about helping students of all ages to achieve their goals and to reach their fullest potential. In my free time, I love reading, music and board games. Music is important to my family, and we often enjoy leading worship together.

About My Ministry

I am grateful that God placed me at SOSU to love on and minister to the students there. I know so many college students arrive with hopes, dreams and goals, but might lack a relationship with our living God. Through ministry events, evangelism and discipling young women in our ministry, I get to simply be an instrument through which the Spirit would convict and call. I hope to see students surrender to our Father in heaven and see how their dreams and goals would be shaped by God's plan for their lives.

I understand how impactful college ministry can be as these students are connected all over the world. The students in our ministry can faithfully take the gospel to their families, their cities and their countries. I get to help students learn the truth of Scripture and embolden them to go and faithfully share.
