KING'S CROSS CHURCH

About the Family

Heather and I have been married since 2005. God has blessed us with four children: Olivia, Mckinley, Jeremiah and Adeline. I earned a mechanical engineering degree from Virginia Military Institute in 2004 and taught high-school physics for two years before becoming a project manager in commercial construction through 2014.

Heather earned her degree in athletic training in 2004 and worked as a physical therapist before transitioning to homeschooling our children. During those years, God burdened our hearts to preach the gospel and plant churches. We moved to North Carolina in August of 2014 to complete an MDiv at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary and to prepare to church plant wherever God would lead. Through His providence, God has drawn our hearts to Raleigh, and we love serving the people in our community.

About My Church Plant

At King's Cross, we exist to glorify God by making disciples who are rooted in the gospel, living in community, serving others and multiplying for His kingdom.

We believe that growing in our relationship with Jesus is foundational to life as a Christian. As we follow Him, we learn to live in deeper community with one another, serve our neighbors with sacrificial love, and share the good news of Jesus Christ in our city and around the world.
