About the Family

Faith is at the center of everything we do as a family. We've built our lives around our relationship with God, and one of the endeavors we're proudest of is our involvement with Church of Redemption for Salvation. Being part of this church community has transformed us in ways we never expected, deepening our faith and strengthening our bond as a family. At our core, we're simple people with a simple mission: to bring others together through the Word of God and to share the same sense of purpose and belonging that has changed our lives for the better.

About My Ministry

Church of Redemption for Salvation exists to help people build better lives, not just fill our pews on Sunday. Our heart is for genuine transformation, meeting people where they are and walking alongside them as they grow. That commitment extends beyond our doors and into the community we call home. Whether it's connecting neighbors with job opportunities, offering support during hard seasons, or simply being a consistent, caring presence, we believe real ministry means showing up for people in practical ways. We want everyone who encounters our church to leave better off, whether or not they ever join us in worship.
