VALLEY HOPE CHURCH

About the Family

I am (M.Div, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary), the lead planter of Valley Hope Church. With a deep commitment to the gospel and a heart for community, my family and I are dedicated to planting seeds of hope and spiritual growth across Utah County.

My wife, Ashley, and I are passionate about reaching the lost world with the hope of the gospel.

About My Ministry

Our ministry was birthed out of a friendship that brought me to my knees when I realized that one of my dear friends did not know the true Jesus. He is a Latter-day Saint, and through him, God opened my eyes to the extent of the lostness here in Utah Valley. We are committed to reaching our neighbors, Utah County, and to the ends of the earth with the gospel.

We believe that ministry in Utah County is relational, and the people must know that you care about them before they care about what you have to say. I often say, "full belly equals open hearts." We focus a large portion of our ministry on relationship-building so that, once we launch in September 2026, they know that, through our doors, they can find a safe place to find hope in Christ.
