About the Family

Eunji and I originally came from South Korea and have been married since 2006. We have four children: Suzie (15), Benjamin (12), Euan (9), and Naomi (6). We lived in North Carolina for 16 years and recently moved to New York.

In my college years, I thought God called me to be a missionary to the Jewish people in Israel. Eunji, in her college years, was involved in ministries of worship and performing arts. During those years of study and ministry, God gave us a strong desire to serve His church.

Our favorite family activity is playing a board game.

About My Church Plant

We are planting a church for Korean immigrants in Long Island, New York.

Planting a church for the immigrants in the U.S. has been our burden and desire since we have seen lots of struggles in immigrant families and churches. Our desire is to be a humble, healthy church that provides a safe community for immigrants and growing healthy families. Our long-term goal is to be a multicultural church raising cross-cultural leaders for cross-cultural ministries and church plants to fulfill the Great Commission.
